

9 Kenilworth Knoll, Asheville NC 28805

WATCHDOG WATER ALARM

We recommend that you consider purchasing the Watch Dog moisture alarm product to put on the floor of your HVAC closet. This unit is designed to alarm in the event that your A/C condensation line leaks, or your water heater leaks. This battery operated unit can be purchased at Lowes, Home Depot and Ace Hardware for approximately $20.00 (unit plus the battery).

PRODUCT OVERVIEW

Model # BWD-HWA

Use the Basement Watchdog Battery-Operated Water Alarm to detect leaks before costly water damage is caused. This alarm can detect as little as 1/32 in. of water and produces a loud 110 dB alarm that can be heard throughout the house to provide an effective early warning system. A convenient battery-saver feature only uses energy when the alarm is sounding to offer a long battery life.

- Battery-saver feature only uses energy when the alarm is sounding for a long battery life
- Detects as little as 1/32 in. of water to offer an effective early warning system
- Solid-state circuitry is extremely sensitive and reliable
- Sensor with 6 ft. of wire offers great extension for installation versatility (accommodates the addition of more than 100 ft. of wire (additional wire not included))
- Can be placed directly on floors or mounted for installation in a variety of locations: in a sump pit, near water heaters, refrigerators or dishwashers, next to washing machines, under sinks, close to air conditioner drain tubes, etc.